- If a dual enrolled student earns less than a 2.0 Auburn GPA in a given term, they will be required to sit out one semester (summer counts as a semester) and to participate in Academic Coaching in their next term of enrollment. An updated verification letter from the school counselor will also be required for the student to enroll in future courses.
- If a dual enrolled student earns a D or F in any Auburn course but finishes the term with a 2.0 Auburn GPA or above, they will be required to participate in Academic Coaching in their next term of enrollment. An updated verification letter from the school counselor will also be required for the student to enroll in future courses.

Dual enrolled students must consult their school counselor to ensure that the continuous eligibility policies at their school are also met.
